HAVAS

Berlin, 21.—The elections for the Reichstag took place throughout Germany yesterday. The first known results prove the progress of the Socialist party. There are numerous ties.

Berlin, Feb. 22nd.—The results known up to the present are as follows:—15 Conservatives, 7 National Liberals, 50 Catholics, 9 Progressionists, 14 Socialists, 22 of different parties and eighty-two ties.

(From the Interior.)

Cordoba, 22—Telegrams from Bell-Ville state that the man Andrew Forester, who had been imprisoned for firing at some 20 people last Sunday, was killed yesterday by the sentinel, who fired at him as he was endeavouring to escape.

The Governor of Rioja is at present here on a visit to the President.

Tucuman, 22—Amongst the projects Government is drawing up to remedy the local financial situation, is one for the issue of hypothecary cedulas by the Provincial Bank.

It has rained here since Tuesday.

Gualeguaychu, 22—The Governor left yesterday. His reception here was splendid and enthusiastic. Luckily the Governor's party had sent out a pilot engine, as a little before arriving at Nogoya, the locomotive came across some straw which concealed beams tied to the rails. In other words, some miscreants had made this vain attempt on the life of the Governor.

From Nogoya the Governor went to Tala and from Tala to Basavilbaso. Everywhere enthusiasm prevailed.

ON THE INCLINE.

Nobody can question the right of the Argentine Government to annul the contract of sale of the Andine Railway, but who can applaud such policy under the present critical circumstances? The repeal of the contract may yet prove a fatal error. At a moment when the Argentine Government is endeavoring to get rid of its railways, offering as a bait to purchasers the guarantee of the State, it seems passing strauge that the very Government should be injuring the success of such important negotiations by attacking the lines enjoying state guarantee. A certain absurd fatality seems to dog the financial and railway policy of the nation. Thus one Minister hoards up gold, another throws it away; one day we diminish the issue of paper, another day we increase it: what a comedy of errors! We offer guarantee of the state to get rid of certain railways, and we undo the business by harassing the guaranteed lines and actually suspending that guarantee. This is a game at cross purposes. People seem to forget that this is playing with the credit of the Nation.

But for the fatal propaganda against the guaranteed lines, the sale of the Andine Railway could have been accomplished without any difficulty. The suspension of the guarantee of 7o/o on the capital of the East Argentine Railway roused both indignation and distrust, and the results we witness in the present difficulties. The unfortunate East Argentine Railway has borne a bad name; it was a victim to its reputation; yet we know for a fact that the manager of the East Argentine line has rolling stock lying idle all the year round for want of traffic. The line was a mistake from the beginning, not so the guarantee, but the government cannot go back on that bargain, and we may as well state it, for it is in the conscience of all, that the East Argentine Railway guarantee is a barometer of the policy and fair play of the Argentine Executive. To shirk the responsibility of that guarantee is to confess to the world that we break our word and dishonour our signature. The effect of such conduct in London can be imagined. Suffice it to say that the latest news is that the Stock Exchange Committee have resolved to boycott the quotation of all further Argentine new companies or loans.

We may not at present realize the gravity of such a decision at a distance of several thousand miles; but we shall learn to feel its effects when we apply for a new loan or a new railway, whether private or official. All future Argentine investments have been boycotted; the East Argentine was the victim of the Argentine Government; the credit of the latter is now the victim of the stock-exchange.

We believe that with a little more tact, a little more prudence, the Andine Railway negotiation could have been finally carried notwithstanding the animus against guaranteed railways. Had the Executive been more patient, had it not been so fatally overzealous, had some breathing time been granted to the purchasers of the concern, some "modus vivendi" might have been arrived at whereby the Government could have secured gradually, if not immediately, the $7000,000 gold, proceeds of the sale of the line. If we are not much mistaken, the lessees who were bound to purchase, and whose contract has now been annulled, had already made engagements with the Central Argentine Railway Company, whereby the latter pledged themselves to take over the working of the line and accepted all responsibility of the contractors towards the Argentine Government. This "modus operandi" would have satisfied the most exquisite exigencies of the Government; yet, in a hurry to foreclose, to throttle the contractors, the Government has made the terrible blunder of annulling the whole business.

The die is cast! The Executive remains with the white elephant, has to face the ill-will of the London stock-exchange, and unwittingly has shattered the foundation of other railway negotiations that were in a fair way until the London stock exchange put its veto on all new companies in such a forcible and violent manner. All these circumstances are a source of regret: for the sake of a paltry annual guarantee of £60,000 a whirlwind has been raised that must injure the credit of the nation. The only way out of the difficulty, we are sorry to think, is one that may not be considered dignified. The Argentine government may solve the difficulty by an amicable compromise, but the bad effects of such a policy will linger in banking and railway parlors here and in England.

The Don's Mails.

London, Jan. 30th.

The newspapers of Lisbon are now publishing articles to the effect that the opposition to England may be carried too far. One journal states that agriculture in Portugal would suffer seriously if the country were deprived of coal and machinery from Great Britain. The Economista declares that some of the hostility of the Portuguese is opposed to a true appreciation of the real interests of their country.

Major Wissmann's report, giving a detailed account of the capture and execution of Bushiri, was officially published in Berlin last evening. The body was handed over to the Arabs for burial at their request.

Count Andrassy is, according to a telegram which has been received by our Vienna Correspondent, in a very dangerous condition, and his friends are very anxious as to the result.

In the absence of the Princess Victoria of Teck, the Lady Mayoress last night presented the prizes to the Post Office Volunteers. The Postmaster General spoke highly of the public spirit, energy, and enterprise of our citizen soldiers.

The Marquess of Bute delivered the inaugural address of the University College of South Wales yesterday at Cardiff. He advocated the study of the classics, and that more attention should be given to the Italian and Spanish languages.

The Lord Mayor presided at the Mansion House yesterday over a meeting held to consider questions affecting the native races of Africa. Lord Granville moved a resolution thanking the King of the Belgians for convening the Anti Slavery Conference at Brussels, and expressed his approval of Lord Salisbury's action in the matter. This was seconded by the Duke of Fife, who, as President of the British South African Company, said they desired not to be regarded as a mere trading society, as their functions embraced the civilization and elevation of the Aborigines. The resolution was adopted, and a Message from the King of the Belgians was read.

Lord Justice Fry presided yesterday at a meeting at Lincoln's-inn, and urged members of the Bar to assist the Charity Organisation Society in grappling with the poverty surrounding the Inns of Court. On the motion of the Solicitor General, seconded by Mr. G. Bruce, M.P., a resolution was adopted giving effect to the wishes expressed by the Chairman.

Sir M. Hicks Beach, speaking at Chester last night, attributed Mr Gladstone's reticence as to his future policy to the widening gulf between him and the more active members of his Party. As to the Portuguese difficulty, he said the Government had no option but to act as they had done; but, with regard to Mr H. Gladstone's prophecy as to defeat for the Government in the coming Session, and consequent Dissolution of Parliament, he believed it would be falsified by events, as it had been before, because the Government based their measures on popular lines.

Mr. Morley, addressing a Liberal meeting in Liverpool last evening, said his text would be the proposition that there could be no security for the good government or wise administration of a country, unless that country possessed an organ of public opinion in the shape of a representative body. No plan of land purchase in Ireland would be satisfactory which was not part of a great political settlement. The recent supersession of the Cork Guardians showed how little trust could be placed in the profession of the Government that they desired to extend local government in Ireland.

Sir William Gull died in London yesterday from the attack of paralysis with which he was seized on Monday last, following a similar attack which two years ago incapacitated him from his duty as a physician.

The Irish bacon trade is at a complete deadlock owing to the strike of butchers. The merchants' stocks will be exhausted by next week; but it is expected that the men will before then withdraw their demands.

At a fire which occurred yesterday at a lodging-house in Dover two women were found to have been suffocated.

Two sons of the Richard Davies who was murdered near Crewe on Saturday night have been arrested. They were brought before the local Magistrate yesterday, charged with the murder of their father, and remanded. The police stated that blood had been found on the prisoners' clothes; and that a hatchet, which might have caused the wounds on the father's head, was missing from his shop.

At Manchester yesterday Mr H T Fenwick won the Hunters' Hurdle-race Plate with Dardanelles, Mr M'Corkell the January Hurdle-race with Reefer, Mr T Green the Selling Hurdle-race Plate with Sophist, and the Wednesday Selling Handicap with Leeds, and Mr T Connor the Trafford Park Handicap Steeple-chase with Trinidad, Mr R W Ethelstone's Bagman and Herr Schmidt's Hoheit ran a dead heat for the Hunters' Steeple-chase Plate and divided the stakes.

Mr Justice Chitty yesterday gave judgment in the petition of the East and West India Dock Company for the confirmation of a proposed scheme of arrangement. It was opposed by Messrs Lucas and Aird and Messrs Kirk and Randall, who were outside creditors for large amounts. His Lordship thought the scheme had been prepared in good faith by the Company, and as it was not unfair to the outside creditors, he confirmed it.

The trial of the Cheltenham will suit concluded yesterday, before Mr Justice Butt and a Special Jury. The Testatrix, a widow, named Horsley, after making a will in favour of Dr Boughton, at whose house she was living last year, died from injuries sustained through the upsetting of a spirit lamp. Dr Boughton propounded that will; but it was opposed by Mr Hendricks, a stockbroker, and a Solicitor, who set up two earlier wills in their own favour, the Testatrix having no known relative. The Jury found she was not of sound mind when she made the will of last year, and his Lordship pronounced in favour of the earlier wills.

Mr Justice Field and a Special Jury yesterday tried two actions against the Rev. F J Aldrich-Blake. The first was brought by Henry Carpenter, who, after being discharged from the Defendant's service, was prosecuted by him on charges of theft, which were dismissed by the Magistrates. The Jury awarded Carpenter one hundred and fifty pounds for malicious prosecution and fifty pounds for libel. In the second case, the Jury gave a man named Steward, who had been prosecuted with Carpenter, fifty pounds damages.

Thomas Neal, a bricklayer, of sixty-eight years, was charged at the Clerkenwell Police court yesterday with having murdered his wife, a young woman of tweny-four. The couple had a quarrel in their lodgings in St. Peter's-street, Islington, on Tuesday morning, and the woman rushed out of her room with wounds in her neck which caused her death within two hours. The Prisoner was apprehended the same evening. He was remanded.

Money was 5 to 5½ yesterday morning, and then later 6 7. The discount rate was 4 per cent Prices were flat on the stock Exchange for Home Railways, irregular for Foreign Bonds, and steady for American Railways and mines. Consols remained at 97⅞ ⅛ for money. The Bank lost 60,000*l.* net in gold exported, but the movements for the past week show a balance on the import side of 1,056,000*l.*

OUR LADIES' LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

Paris, February 1, 1890.

Doctors, influenza, deaths; these are the reigning events, and naturally, not the stimuli to mirth or intercourse. A frantic patriot writes in his journal, that Paris sick brings social life "in the universe to a stand-still," just as Louis XIV laid down, when France is satisfied the world is at peace. Without going exactly to the length of the gushing Gaul, whose idea of the universe seems to be of the Boulevards boulevardian, there can be no doubt, this centre of amusement, light and learning has been seriously affected by the influenza; whether it be of Russian origin, or a revised edition of that grippe which was the common winter ailment in France five centuries ago, is not of much consequence. Everyone was prepared for a quiet season after the high jinks during the Exhibition, but not for positive suspended animation.

Madame Carnot, a most persevering lady, struggles resolutely against the low, or the ebbing tide. She gives official dinners and holds receptions; but there are large blank spaces in her proverbially crowded salons. No functionaries imitate her courage. In private circles the plan is to test the number of friends capable of venturing out of doors, then give a small and early soiree, with music by stars, or acknowledged amateur talent. A few evenings ago, I was present at a "Christmas" dinner. On the 18th of December last, the hostess issued invitations for the 25th following; but on the 23d all were countermanded; her son was down with the influenza, which she caught the next day. The original invites felt in duty bound to be present at the deferred dinner, save one lady, who had died of the epidemic, and a gentleman gone to the Zambesi, to survey packet routes for the British African companies. He sent his love to all the guests, and hoped in a short time to be able to invite them to a pic-nic in the heart of Central Africa.

People in mourning are as numerous now as if after a big war, and they have the air to be more sorrowful. On the battle field, death was associated with glory; the calamity was circumscribed. Now the enemy is insiduous; he watches for you in every current of air; drops on you at the commencement of a chill, or spies the moment when you are extra fatigued. And the struggle is dangerous, chiefly by the effects left behind. In other kinds of sickness, the invalid may reasonably count upon being able to kill time by reading; not so with influenza—about which nothing is really known, save that it goes about seeking whom it may devour; that malady in the twinkling of an eye, if it does not carry away life, abducts physical and moral strength so thoroughly as to compel the sufferer to almost conclude that "life is not worth living for." And the depression follows even the convalescent stage, and co-operates with a nasty purulent and irritating bronchitis.

Next to not catching the influenza, the best preventive is to remain indoors as much as possible, especially after night-fall. The malady is not on the increase, while at the same time it does not go away. No authenticated second attacks are to be recorded. This state of things has produced an innovation in habits and customs. Since dinners and balls cannot be organized without much difficulty, and since people must come together somehow, it is now the fashion to dejeuner at a select restaurant. The hour is never later than twelve, so does not break in on the afternoon, while affording ample time for knife and fork duty and chats. The meal is studiously light, not a first-dinner, but half a dinner.

A lady can pick up not a few practical hints on table management at restaurants, "En passant" English and American ladies enjoy going to restaurants. At private tables everything is generally "rushed", so that no time is left for conversation; to "swallow", appears to be the whole duty of man—and woman. And never dine at a table d'hote, where if you desire to obtain anything to eat, you must not converse, but adopt a flying Dutchman velocity, to keep pace with the removes. I do not know anything more agreeable than a few friends repasting at a respectable, but not a millionnaire restaurant. And three-fourths of the pleasure resides in the service. As in French theatres, it is a classic maxim, never allow the stage to be unoccupied pending a representation, so in a French restaurant, there is no break in the service, everything arrives at the moment desired; the "unities" are observed; there is no hurry, no bustle, no confusion. Give your orders at the commencement to the head waiter or "patron"; sternly insist that warm dishes and warm plates only shall be employed with warm meats, and occupy yourself no further.

M. and Madame de Lesseps held a reception a few evenings ago, where the chief attraction was the presence of the old man's children; the two by his first marriage, and the eleven by his second. His "eldest boy" is about fifty-five years of age, and his youngest child, a daughter, Gisele, is four years old; the age of the eldest of the eleven children is seventeen. Comte de Lesseps himself is now in his eighty-fifth year; he is rapidly breaking-up or down, but still retains a good flow of animation, for a gentleman never at any time mercurial. They say the failure of the Panama Canal has never affected him; he believes that his scheme is being victimised by a conspiracy.

The few skating days we had were fully enjoyed by lovers of the sport. The dressmakers, etc., must have experienced heavy losses; they invented the most extraordinary "skating toilettes," and baptised them Russian, Canadian, Polish, etc. Parisiennes avoided them: Russian and Canadian ladies shrunk from them with horror; only the fair sex from Brazil and Central America patronised the novelties, but as they were ignorant of skating and strangers by climate to ice, they looked the most amusing of fish out of water. Since, they are "warm supporters" of the newly-founded artificial ice rink, the very best "milieu" to catch a congestion of the lungs. The atmosphere is torrid, the floor Siberian.

Mdlle. Eiffel has been married to an "attaché" of the Foreign Office, in the presence of a large assembly of Exhibition notorieties. All the bridal presents had the "tower" suggestiveness; and her "dot" was half a million francs in cash, and shares in the Eiffel Tower Company for a similar sum. This proves that her papa made a good profit out of his enterprise. Madame de Lesseps contributed to the "corbeille," a centre piece for a dinner table, where a Panama Canal makes a circuit round an Eiffel tower. A marriage that will create a sensation is the projected union of President Carnot's son with Mdlle. Jeanne Hugo, celebrated by her grandfather in his poetry. She is a good-looking young lady, of winning manners, and a fair share of intellectual accomplishments; the latter have not proved the heritage of her brother George, who is simply a "masher."

The Upper Tenists have done a good deal to popularise chromo season cards with appropriate mottoes. This agreeable innovation supersedes the usage of exchanging visiting Bristol board, between Christmas and New Year's day, either by the post, or specially by a servant. Many of the cards are gems of art, and are either designed or painted by the sender. Should the latter be a pupil of Mdlle. Lemaire, the "card" will merit a frame. It is usual to sketch the family crest unobtrusively in a corner at the lower part of the card. Many of the mottoes are the outcome of Social Bees, an amusement nearly as entertaining as a cotillon.

Of course every young person is interested in the Waltz question. It is impossible to believe that it will be dethroned—at least not till its successor be installed. Johann Strauss may rest assured that his "Beau Danube bleu"—a river by the bye which is very yellow—will keep the floor for a very long future still. It has survived the attempt to revive the old French dances; it has witnessed the rise and fall of drawing room jigs, and the resuscitation of the menuet that entailed as much preparation as the rehearsals and the representation of salon theatricals. Quadrilles have ceased to live, save perhaps the Lancers. The waltz it is alleged is too fast, affords no time for a chat during a whirl, still less to keep in breath. Well, if young folks taboo the waltz a "deux temps", let them select the "valse a trois" temps, and which will eliminate the "galop". Or, why not patronize the now fashionable "le boston", and that every professor of dancing teaches. It is a dance, slow and undulatory; full of freedom of movement: you can turn as you please, and come and go, and you can speak without losing breath, and whirl without getting vertigo.

Dancing leads naturally to music. A very successful operette has been brought out, "Cendrillonette"; it deserves notice because not only is the music—by Messrs. Serpette and Roger—new, which is a variety, but very light, gay, and fascinating. The acting of Madlle. Milly-Meyer is remarkably brilliant: she is the natural successor to Judic, Theo, etc. The revival of the "Comtesse Romani", a three act comedy, has not been more successful than it was in 1876; thus the verdict has been twice ratified, that young men with "stage on the brain" ought never to marry actresses. Madame Jane Hading was the comtesse; her interpretation was classical but devoid of warmth, soul, reality.

Fathers and husbands will not have much to complain of this season on account of milliners' and dress-makers' bills, two professions as loud in their wailings of being ruined by the influenza as the butchers. When people cease to order meat and dress, the millennium cannot be distant. Hats are rather large still and most remarkable for the amount and variety of the trimming, to enable numerous colours to be displayed. Patrouizing a multiplicity of tints is like playing with edged tools for, after all, the largest bonnet presents but a relatively small surface. Velvet is the favorite material for bonnets—felt for very young people, and jet, ribbons, and plume of feathers the favourite ornaments; strings in velvet, simplicity of shape, rarity in stuffs, eccentricity in color, and oddness in pattern, such are the characteristics of dresses. A new plan is coming into favour: dress-makers now supply the designs and decide upon the material, giving the manufacturer instructions accordingly, they retaining the trade-right to the out-put. If the latter makes a "hit" purchasers must go for it to the dress-maker proprietor.

Woollens of fanciful but not too showy patterns are in chief request; the old colour, London smoke, has been revived and welcomed. Fur never was more worn than at present. Light colored cloth dresses are trimmed with either astrakan or chinchilla; sable, being solemn and distinguished, is preferred for velvets. Figured cloth is a favourite material for redingotes. The wrap-mantle most in vogue is the old "Bonne Femme," in flowered mohair; next is the pelerine in coloured silk, straight in front, but leaving full liberty for the arms to come out. Mantles are not in themselves warm, but they prevent the heat of the body from escaping; hence the importance of fur, woollens and wadded materials.

Ball-dresses are largely made up in black tulle worn over a rose satin transparency; there is also white lace over old rose-coloured satin; maize velvet has also admirers for evening toilettes. Beige, or otter woollens, are mostly patronized for town dresses. The sleeves of corsages are made more and more raised and voluminous; they have the drawback to be inconvenient by their tightness round the lower part of the arm. Black stockings, either in Scotch thread or silk, are preferred; boots and shoes have needle-pointed toes; the heels of the former are demi Louis XV.

LONDON LETTER

NEWS IN A NUTSHELL.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Jan. 15

Cablegrams will have told you as much as we know of the question between Great Britain and Portugal. The rapidity with which events have transpired reminds us how quickly an indiscreet minister might douse the lights on our coasts and have foreign uniforms and bayonets threading their way through Dorking woods. Lord Salisbury was not satisfied with Senhor Gomes's reply. The British minister sent an ultimatum demanding acceptance within 24 hours. The Portuguese government yielded and promised to withdraw her armed forces from all territories north and south of the Zambesi. The Lisboa Cabinet had to resign. It has been succeeded by a Conservative administration under Senhor Serpa Pimental, editor of the Portugal Gazette, a lawyer and member of an ancient family, very clever, a great linguist, much travelled, and though of a party commonly known as Anglophile; he himself is a jingo and a hater of England. For these last qualifications he was specially selected by the king and by the advice of the outgoing ministry. In Lisbon the mob of students and others attacked the British Legation, broke the windows and tore down the escutcheon. In Coimbra the mob have publicly burned the British flag, and in Oporto they stoned the British Consulate. All that will soon settle down, but the anti-English feeling Lord Salisbury's affectation of highhandedness against a third-rate power has raised in France, where there is an Egyptian and a Madagascar question, in Spain where there is always Gibraltar, and in Germany where African interests are new and tender, will take a long time to settle, if it does not eventually light up the embers of war that only require a more certain feeling as to new explosives and rifles everywhere, and a better supply of common military requirements in Russia to blaze up afresh. The Czar is frightened out of his wits by constant fear of assassination, and from what oozes out through the bars of his dark empire we assume that Russia is in a state of political ferment and demoralization. The circumstance on the one hand prevents war, whilst on the other it might lead to its necessity, if the Czar is to remain on his throne, and the present political system is to exist. The German Emperor meanwhile preaches and prophesies peace, whilst the Reichstag silently passes a vote of 100,009,000 marks for military purposes As for the Portuguese question, there are many reasons for thinking that Lord Salisbury was justified in putting his foot down at once when it became a matter of promiscuous scramble for territory according to the whims of Lieut. Cordon or Major Serpa Pinto. As for the reality of the international claims in South Africa, we possess no serious and official document by which we can yet form an opinion. Senhor Pimental thinks that by the Treaty of Berlin, and in virtue of a clause he himself worked to get included in reference to the Congo territory, the late action of the British Government is distinctly a breach of that treaty, by which all claims in Africa were to be settled by the arbitration or common interference of the signatory powers.

The Berlin treaty seems to have in the eyes of some nations the virtues of a decree of federated States. Russia invokes it against the negotiation of a Bulgarian loan in Vienna or the sale of a Bulgarian brewery in London. Surely it was never intended to cover those questions. Were such an interpretation attempted it would mean a general war for the revision or reenactment of the treaty of Berlin. As for England, her mistake in Africa as elsewhere has not been as silly French and Spanish and perhaps German papers assert, a greed for more possessions, but rather apathy and leaving the government of her colonies to people like Lord Knutsford, a mere official, and open to earwigging by missionaries and traders.

The influenza continues to abate, but supposing that we have really had no Russian Influenza here at all, the dampness and what medical men call the "combustion" in the air have knocked us all into thicker jaegers and killed some of us. You will see that Lord Cairns and Field Marshal Lord Napier of Magdala are victims. Lord Hartington has been seriously ill. Mr. Balfour has had a touch of the complaint, and so has Mr. Ritchie and a lot of other swells. Besides, the mortality returns tell the real tale. The average per thousand is 17.8. Last week it was 32.4 per thousand.

I ought to write again to-night per 'Tamar' but I doubt if there be pabulum enough. Meanwhile the following financial items will interest you, and there is always the "Patagonia" ahead.

The World says: "All Brasilian securities are firmer, though the market is dull owing to exaggerated doubts as to the course of the money market. The advices from the River Plate continue to be most reassuring and Argentine stocks have been in better demand at slightly improved prices. With anything like an easier money market all descriptions of Argentine securities would quickly recover their old leading position in the stock exchange." Truth says: "I should advise holders not to give way to panic. Brazil as a republic is not one whit worse than Brazil was as an empire. Great interest attaches to the present position in the Argentine Republic. The gold premium in Buenos Ayres is fluctuating between 130 and 135, and there seems to be a regular ring of speculators in gold who by making new "Bear" sales ever create a fresh corner. It looks however as if we were on the eve of a change. The crops are reported to be enormous, and I have seen cablegrams to shipping houses here predicting immense shipments during the next few months, the wool season extending from December to February and the grain season from February to April. As a consequence gold will have to be sent to Buenos Ayres, and this is how the best informed anticipate a break down of the gold corner and consequent rally of all Argentine stocks. By the way, with reference to my remarks a week ago on "Argentine Guarantees" it has been pointed out to me from a usually well informed quarter that it is fully understood that the Argentine Government will by no means become judgment creditors of Guaranteed Railways on the expiration of such guarantee, but will only have a claim upon any earnings above the interest guaranteed. In the case of a 5 per cent guarantee the government would not be able to demand any money until the company paid more than a 5 per cent dividend. If this is the correct view, it might be as well that the Argentine Government made an official statement to that effect."

Railway Items.

A decree was issued yesterday from the Home Office authorizing the Buenos Ayres and Rosario Railway to open the Sunchales extension as far as Pintos.

The manager of the Pacific Railway received yesterday a letter from the Inspector-General stating that the 45 carriages on the line are not sufficient to cope with the traffic. The Company recently received 4 sleeping saloons, 4 first-class and 4 2nd class carriages. But the Inspector-General says that this is not sufficient and states that it is necessary to purchase 6 first-class and 8 second class carriages. The Inspector General's note is very brief.

Government yesterday approved the alterations proposed by the Belgrano and Tigre Railway Company in the plans for first and second-class stations.

In regard to this railway, we may state that 8 kilometres have been already constructed, and there are 220 men employed on the works. The permanent plan has not yet arrived from Europe.

Government also approved the plans of bridges (3, 5 and 10 metres span) presented by the Central Argentine Railway Company. These bridges are to be built on the line from San Fernando to Pergamino.

According to a telegram received last evening at the N. R. Board, a fatal accident occurred the 18th inst. on the Tucuman railway, kil. 517. It appears the locomotive and tender of a goods' train jumped off the rails, and the engine-driver and stoker were killed. Five wagons were completely destroyed.

A Pacific train went off the track on Thursday night, and some delay was occasioned. Nobody was hurt.

A Rosario train killed a man on Sunday night at kil. 268.

Several reports have been received of late by the Inspector-General. We summarise as follows:—

Central Entre-Riano—Drains must be immediately built along the line. Two columns of the bridge (200 metres span) at kil. 202 have sunk 10 centimetres. The bridge near Nogoya is sinking. Wagons in unsatisfactory condition, and rolling-stock insufficient.

Andine Railway—Line in bad condition. The line must be entirely raised. Service bad.

Central Northern—Line bad at kils. 4 19, 51, 60, 78, 82, 230, 240, 556, 552, 726 and 767. The number of gangers is insufficient. The fencing from Cordoba to Tucuman must be renewed. Rolling-stock insufficient.

East Argentine—The viaduct at kil. 140 must be renewed. The 50 new wagons have not yet been provided with brakes.

According to the mails yesterday, the taking up of the Carranza concession by a French syndicate was not foreseen by the numerous wiseacres of Lombard-street. The French now hold three important concessions:—The Bustamente railway to Chile; the Santa Fe Railway; and the Carranza railway to Chile. We believe there is yet another concession in the hands of French syndicates, but as to this we are not quite sure. The capital of the latest syndicate who have taken up the famous Carranza concession is four million pounds sterling, and it is stated the works will be commenced on the 1st prox The railways in construction are keeping up the life of the country.

The golden stream pouring into the country to pay the 5,000 men employed on the Monte Caseros Lines, the 3,000 on the Tres Arroyos Extension, and the thousands more up-country, not to mention the 4,000 men in the Port-Works, mitigates and even minimizes the evils of the present situation of financial difficulties. The crisis is severe enough. Loud clamours burst upon us from all classes, and strikes are not unfrequent. But what would the situation be if the railway works had to be suspended? The negotiation of the Carranza concession, whether in London or Paris, is a healthy sign: two or three thousand men will be required to build these 700 kilometres of line. Thousands of pounds sterling must be sent out to pay these men, and thus the stagnation of labour, the most dangerous of all causes, is avoided.

The contract for building the new Roumanian bridge over the Danube has been adjudged to the French company of Fives, Lille, (the same company who hold the lease of the Santa Fe Railways) which made the lowest tender (7,657,000f). There were seven tenders in all, the highest of 17,630,000f. coming from an English firm.

Advices from Bolivia state that Messrs. Cornejo and Silas F. Shurey were completing the surveys for a railroad proycsed to be built between Huanchaca and Potosi. The Huanchaca Mining Company contributes $100,000 towards the work.

The detailed contract for the construction of the Central Sud-Americano Railway (Chaco) has been submitted to the government for approval.

Dr. Araoz has left for Rio Cuarto to take over the Andine Railway.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

More Carnival foolery and vice to-day, unless Jupiter Pluvius kindly interfere to knock it on the head, which we devoutly hope he may. The police have organized extra precautions to prevent a repetition of the disgraceful scenes in Calle Florida last week.

The news from Rio yesterday was unpleasant. Yellow fever so bad at Campinas that the better class of inhabitants have taken to their heels.

The French actresses' ball on Friday night was a lamentable fiasco; although some gentlemen in "fracs" (one of them red) and knee-breeches, over by no means first-class pins, afforded a little mild amusement to the rest of the guests.

We find the following distressing paragraph in an English paper of January 28th received yesterday:—"On Sunday 28th an attempt was made to assassinate the Anglican Bishop of Pennsylvania while he was conducting service in a church at Philadelphia. A man in the congregation fired a revolver at the bishop, and was about to take a second shot, when he was seized. He is said to be a fanatic, and objects to the prelate's views on the temperance question."

The influenza is still holding its own in town, but nobody seems inclined to die of it. High and low have it; and even the Italian bricklayers and peones in the street can be heard coughing and sneezing at high pressure. The list of "enfermos conocidos" grows longer every day.

There was a pitched battle on board the British steamer Eurydice, now in port, on Friday night. It appears that the crew were engaged in pumping the hold dry, assisted by some men from the Ayudantia. The captain gave them first one round of grog and then another. They all got drunk, and the row began by two sailors coming on deck start naked for a boxing bout. The mate, William Brown, tried to stop it, and then a general scrimmage began, in which Brown was floored with an iron bar, although he fired two shots at the mutineers. Quartermaster Oneto, who commanded the Ayudantia men, was wounded in his efforts to restore order.

We regret to learn by telegraph that all the lunching and lionizing in Entre Rios was near ending badly for the Governor. An attempt was made to upset his train near Nogoya, but fortunately, it proved no go. We're glad.

The Flores Collegiate School has achieved fresh laurels at the supplementary Examinations held yesterday in the National College. Miss Elvira Olivera has passed her first year course with the following high classifications: arithmetic, 10, geography 8, history 8, French 9, Spanish grammer 9, Drawing 8. The total results are in 24 Examinations 1 Sobresaliente [20 marks], 5 Distinguidos [8 or 9 marks], 6 Buenos [6 or 7 marks], 12 Regulares [4 or 5 marks]. We congratulate the Rev. Principal of the School on this very flattering result.

We have to thank Mr. Graham, the courteous purser of the R M S Don, for sending us late English and Brazilian papers. The splendid ship made the run out (exclusive of stoppages) in 21 days 22 hours and 39 minutes.

We find the following announcement in the Express of Montevideo:—"We announce to our readers the approaching marriage of Mr Phibbs Thurburn (the popular broker and brother of the esteemed manager of the London and River Plate Bank) to the charming Miss Young. We not only wish it, but we are sure that every one who reads these lines will heartily join in desiring all kinds of happiness and joys for them."

Influenza has now gone on a trip up the river Uruguay, and is making matters unpleasantly brisk in the sneezing line for the inhabitants of Salto, B. O.

Dolores seems to be in rather a dolorous condition in reference to the three Rs. There are 2389 people in that partido who do not know B from a bull's foot, and would have to believe you if you told them that twice ten are fifty. Poor Dolores.

The Flying British squadron, which has lately been coaling at Las Palmas (Grand Canary) has left that port and will probably arrive in Montevideo in the course of a few days.

The Pan American Congress has now been long enough pottering round the United States and eating and drinking of the fat of the land to have done something practical; but nothing has come of it but flowery talk, at which the South American delegates can give their hosts tons of weight and still beat their heads off. The New York World tells the P.A.C. that they are a pack of noodles (or something to this effect) and that they are in danger of becoming the laughing-stock of the civilized world. How they must feel under such a crushing compliment!

We reproduce the following from the Southern Cross, and feel great pleasure in endorsing the compliments paid to Mr Lewis Baker: "Mr. Lewis Baker, son of the United States Consul, so well known and highly esteemed, has been appointed to the important office of vice-consul for his country in this city. We understand that Mr Baker, senior, will shortly take a vacation, and no man in Buenos Ayres deserves it better. He will probably visit his native home in company with some members of his family. In his absence he will be replaced by Don Luis, who was formerly a representative of the fourth estate, and has recently been trained by the parental hand in all the details of consular duties. We heartily congratulate him and hope to see him occupy still higher positions in the service of his country, for which he is highly fitted by his eminent talents and practical knowledge of the world".

The indefatigable Messrs. Peuser and Co. have now on sale a very neat card to hang up near the telephone in offices, for the purpose of noting those numbers that are most frequently in communication with the party interested. It is a very convenient card.

We are pleased to read in the *Southern

The feature of the second hour's business was a further spurt in the gold premium and the re-appearance of the sovereign stock at 150. This rate, which reflects a tremendous fall, was the talk of the whole market as the last sales were effected at over 170 and now the stock is friendless at 150. The operations in gold were on a heavy scale, the tendency of prices being always upwards, which left the rates at the close at 229.80 for Monday and 232 end March. Catalinas and Constructors were dull at 41 and 74 respectively.

According to the latest advices from Montevideo the Obras had relapsed to 46; this fall is only temporary however, and the shares will soon be booming upwards again.

Mr. Thomas Drysdale had a long interview with Dr. Pacheco, Minister of Hacienda, to-day at the Government House. Lord Mayor Seeber and Dr. J. A. Garcia, president of the National Mortgage Bank, also had interviews with the Minister. We heard on 'Change that Mr. Seeber leaves to-morrow for Cordoba.

Some large lots of National Bank Shares are offering in the market, but there are no buyers, and the shares must for the present be held up.

The principal private banks are discounting trade "pagarés" at 10 to 10½ o/o per annum.

It seems that within the last few days a large amount of gold "conformes" have been cashed, and some 400,000 mn gold sent to Montevideo.

Telegrams from London to-day were reported very unfavorable, and a large syndicate that was being formed to buy up paper stocks and shares is dissolved. It also stated that no new Argentine Railway Companys shares will be allowed to be quoted on the London stock exchange until the Government guarantee due on the railway is arranged.

The Italian steamer Aquila cleared to-day; she is a very fast sailer and will go to Europe in 17 days. She took a very heavy mail and all the new shares of the Banco de Italia for the Genoese shareholders. She left crowded with passengers.

The following is the list of passengers arrived by the R.M.S. Don:—

Captain and Mrs. Dobie, Mr. and Mrs. Watts, nurse and infant, Mrs. Tetley, child and nurse, Mr. W. H. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. J. Shortland, Mrs. Eliot, Mr. John Wallace, Mr. P. H. Vignoles, Mr. H. O. C. Vignoles, Mrs. H. A. Lager, six children and nurse, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Topham, Mrs. H. Crawley, Miss Shaw, Mr. H. E. Anthony, Mr. C. de Biscuces, Mr. and Tripot, Mr. and Mrs. Kimball and child, Mr. Foster, Mr. F. Sewell, Mr. E. K. Robertson, Mr. Woolf Bendoff, Mr. E. W. Janson, Mrs. Wallis, Mr. W. F. Robinson. Mr. W. G. Power, Mr. J. A. Matthews, Mr. A. Shanks, Mr. W. H. Davis, Mr. John Adams, Mr. David Wyatt, Mr. Thos. Ray, Mrs. Ellen Grace, Mrs. Mary Bruyant, Mr. and Mrs. Abercrombie, Mr. V. L. Humphreys, Mr. John Blakiston, Mr. F. W. Man, wife and two children, Miss Annie Sullens, Mr. H. Lowe, Mr. A. H. Mayne, Mr. Edward Howard, Mrs. C. Langdon, Mr. William Carvosso, Mr. F. M Campbell, Mr Percy Brudderlich, Major Conolly, Mr and Mrs O'Connor, the Misses O'Connor (two) and two children, one man and one maidservant, Mr Vicente Pimentel, Mr Linz Jose de Silva, Mr Jesus Arroyo Rivon, Mr Abilio Anton Rodriguez, Mr Peter A Mackenzie, Mrs Susanne Carrupt, Mr Isidore d'Lojoza Varejas, Mr Joas da Silva Braza and fifty-two third-class passengers. Actual time from Southampton 21 days 23 hours 39 minutes; Steaming time 18 days 6 hours 54 minutes.

A most important meeting was held this afternoon in the Government House. The following gentlemen were present:—Vice-President Pellegrini, Minister Q. Costa, Admiral Cordero, Engineer Pirovano, Feilberg, Mr. Edward Madero, and Engineers Dobson and Barabino. The subject of discussion was the proposal of Messrs. E. Madero and Son to build a graving dock on the eastern side of the South Basin. After a lengthy interchange of ideas, it was resolved:—

1stly.—To send back the proposal for study to the department of engineers, that they may take into consideration the requirements of the mercantile and Argentine navy and propose the amendments and improvements they may deem necessary; the Junta de Marina to be also consulted in the decisions.

2ndly—That the department draw up the basis of a contract with Messrs. E. Madero and Sons for the building of the graving dock, and submit the same to the Government for approval.

Mr. Chevallier Boutell, representative of the Rosario City Improvement Works, has addressed a vigorous note to the Municipality of that city announcing that the second division of drains and storm sewers will be ready for public use next month and requesting that the Water Works company be obliged to make the necessary connections so as to flush the sewers daily. The latter company are obliged by the terms of their contract to fulfil this duty, and it only remains for the Municipality now to held them to their bond.

The report and balance sheet of the Rosario market and wharves company has been handed round, and will, no doubt, astonish most of those who take the trouble to read it, since the board have taken the extraordinary step of watering their stock to pay a dividend, a course that has been invariably attended with evil consequences, and which must prove doubly fatal at moments such as the present. Thus in the balance sheet the cash returns amount to the round sum of some fifteen thousand shinplasters, yet the directors propose a dividend that will absorb 204,297 dollars calculated, and, perhaps, very justly so, to be the increased value of the company's properties. To meet this amount new shares are to be issued up to five hundred thousand dollars, the balance to be applied to the extension of the company's business. This watering of stock invariably brings about its own condemnation, and, perhaps, before long the board will see the mistake of their policy. It is satisfactory to note that the business prospects of the concern are excellent.

NUEVA ESCOCIA

On March 16th next an auction will be held in this city, of lots inside the municipal limits, and also of quintas and haras of this new town destined to prove itself another nucleus of industry and population.

Nueva Escocia is situated on the banks of the River Paraná, in the camp belonging to Don Gmo. Shand (formerly Parker and Grenfell) and distant six leagues only from Concordia.

The fertility of these lands is notorious.

The National Government has just finished a port on the same land, with offices of customs duties, guard house, post, telegraph, etc., all the steamships on the Uruguay being obliged to put in there. This port will be the point of embarkation for all the produce of the Yerua Colony and the other establishments of the South and South-East of the Department, no other being in existence between Concordia and Villa Colon.

This town is drawn out in manzanas of 190 metres by 100, with streets 15 metres wide, the quintas being 16 hectareas, or say 400 metres by 400 metres and divided into four equal parts, with roads of 20 metres.

Purchasers who desire to build immediately can have bricks allotted to them at cost price, half a million already being on the camp.

Lately excavations have been made with the object of ascertaining the existence of calcareous stone, with the result that well informed persons say they have come across it of an excellent quality on the same bank of the river. Invitations will soon be sent out to all those interested in forming the acquaintance of this picturesque part of the country, and the plans of the projected town and colony of

will be promptly distributed.

En el pintoresco pueblo de Quilmes

A 30 minutos de la capital federal, sobre el gran boulevard Circunvalacion, á cinco cuadras de la plaza principal, sobre la calle Mitre, toda adoquinada, situacion inmejorable, ocho magnificas manzanas de Terreno, divididas en lotes grandes y chicos, con frente á la hermosa quinta del Sr. Dr. Benjamin Zorilla, y á solo una cuadra de la Plaza Libertad, con 800 0 cedulas serie L, base para la venta: las cedulas, 1.23 ps m|n la vara cuadrada, sobre los mismos terrenos.

El Domingo, 23 de Febrero
A la 1 de la tarde.

Remataremos en la mas alta postura y dinero de contado por cuenta y orden de su propietario los espledidos terrenos arriba mencionados. Ocho magnificas manzanas de terreno divididas en lotes grandes y chicos, situados en el floreciente y pintoresco pueblo veraniego de Quilmes,

La situacion especial de estos terrenos les da un valor real y positivo, distan tan solo cinco cuadras de la plaza principal sobre la calle Mitre toda adoquinada, con frente al gran boulevard Circunvalacion, á una cuadra de la hermosa plaza Libertad con frente á la grandiosa casa quinta del Dr. Benjamin Zorilla.

Como puede verse son de los mejores terrenos que aun quedan para vender, pues se adaptan para construcciones industriales, como para formar quintas y casas de recreo, etc., distan unicamente diez cuadras de la estacion del ferrocarril y á treinta minutos de la gran capital federal.

Creemos inutil llamar la atencion de los interesados y con especialidad de los industriales sobre la venta de estos terrenos y su inmejorable situacion, la cual atrae muchos industriales á tal punto que se va formando un nucleo de ellos, siendo uno de los mas importantes la Sociedad del establecimiento frigorifico de los Sres. Nelson Ca., que tambien ha tenido en cuenta la gran baratura, facilidad y prontitud, para el embarque de sus productos, ya sea por el Puerto Madero como por el puerto La Plata que quedan á igual distancia; aún mayor ventaja ofrecerá el Canal Reus una vez concluido: todo lo enumerado es ya un hecho y ya se realizadas las obras siturian en mayor numero los industriales y seria entonces el verdadero centro de las industrias, donde las tierras valdrán oro en polvo y no habrá quien venda una pulgada.

Otra gran ventaja se les presenta á los compradores, pues, con las cedulas poco tienen que desembolsar.

Los lotes se han hecho al alcance de todos, grandes y chicos, con la infima base de 1.25 pesos por vara cuadrada que es la hipoteca que reconoce en cedulas provinciales de la serie L.

Titulos de primer orden. Los compradores podrán seguir con las cedulas tomadolas á estilo de plaza y precio de bolsa el dia antes de la escrituracion.

El remate se efectuará sobre los mismos terrenos.

Todo comprador entregará al firmar el boleto el 5 por ciento sobre el importe total de la compra.

Por planos y mas datos a nuestra casa Alsina 482.

Por los mismos.

De el Centro Agricola, General Sarmiento, en el partido de Junin, propiedad del Señor Julio Carrié, situado á 20 kilometros de las estaciones de los ferro-carriles del Oeste y del Pacifi o, y lindando con el ejido del pueblo y á 90 kilometres del puerto San Nicolás. El ferro-carril conecido al general Teodoro Garcia cruzará este centro.

Estas tierras son especialisimas para la agricultura y conocida es la fama de que gozan los trigos de Junin y la especial demanda que tiene entre los molineros.

Llammamos la atencion de los agricultores sobre este centro, no solo por la calidad de la tierra sino por las ventajosisimas condiciones que se ofrecen para su adquisicion.

El Domingo, 2 de Marzo,
A las 12 del dia,

y sobre el mismo centro, despues de un almuerzo campestre, procederémos al remate del centro general Sarmiento bajo las bases y condiciones siguientes:—

78 chacaras de 50 hectáreas mas ó menos cada una con la base de 60 ps. hectáres y con hipoteca de 80 ps. en cédulas de la série O. 14 quintas con base de 80 ps. hectáres y con hipoteca de 80 ps. en cédulas série O.

Los solares no tienen hipoteca y se venderán con la base de 10 centavos el metro cuadrado.

Las condiciones de pago son las siguientes, Haciéndose cargo los compradores de la hipoteca tomando las cédulas al precio de Bolsa el dia antes de la escrituracion, el excedente sobre el importe efectivo de las cédulas y el precio de compra lo abonarán mitad al contado y el resto á 6 meses de plazo.

Hasta hoy no se ha ofrecido un centro agricola en mejores condiciones para el pago. Pueden comprarse tierras con pequeños desembolsos, pues no se exige la diferencia del precio nominal de las cédulas, lo que importa la rebaja de un 40 o|o mas ó menos.

Creemos por consiguiente inútiles mayores recomendaciones y solo rogamos á los chacareros y agricultores se preocupen de este remate y visiten la tierra que ofrecemos en venta, pues creemos esta la mejor oportunidad de adquirirla en buenas condiciones.

Actualmente salen dos trenes para Junin, uno á las 7.50 a.m. que llega á las 3 p.m., y otro á la tarde que sale á las 4.50 p.m. y llega á las 11.20 p.m.

Los interesados deben tomar al tren de la tarde el dia antes de remate, asando la noche en Junin y al dia siguiente, á las 9 de la mañana, tomar los carruajes que saldran del hotel del señor Valenti para llevar la concurrencia hasta el mismo centro.

Todo comprador ó sin excepcion abonará el 5 o|o sobre el importe total de su compra al firmar el boleto. Por planos y mas datos á nuestra casa Alsina 482.

ON CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.

First Ring..... 230.00
Second Ring..... 230.80

Monday, February 24th.

The market opened to-day in rather an unsettled state, due to the great rise that convulsed the gold market last week. This gave rise to a stiff demand, not only for dates, but also for cash, and the premium jumped up at an alarming rate that threatened to end in a panic. Luckily, as soon as the prices had boomed up to the semi panic altitude of 232 for cash and 235 for end of March, there was a lull, caused by the appearance of numerous sellers, who, having bought cheap took advantage of the occasion to realise their margins. This first check saved the situation, as after the lull the decline began and soon left prices still weakening off at 230 cash, 229.50 for the end of the month and 231.50 for the end of March. In stocks only the usual meagre business was done, part of it being the sale of a few lots of National Bank shares at 155 and 150. Stocks were desperately weak all round and neglected.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—
